

RILEY ELEMENTARY

LETTER FROM THE PRINCIPAL

December 7, 2016

This week's theme: November Student of the Month

Dear Families,

Every month, we recognize one student from each class who has demonstrated strong academics and behavior. The students are nominated by their classroom teachers. The nomination is read at a Student of the Month assembly. The students have their pictures taken, which are displayed in our school and on the web site.

We, as a faculty, feel it is important to recognize the achievements of our students. Our young people work very hard every day and doing some incredible things. Most importantly, they are growing each and every day. Their knowledge is growing, their ability to problem solve is growing, their confidence is growing, and their potential is growing. It is wonderful that we get to pause once every month to recognize this growth and accomplishment in a more formal way.

Thanks to all the parents and family members who were able to join us at this past Student of the Month assembly. We would love for you to discuss with your children what it means to be a Student of the Month and how they can work hard and show perseverance to eventually become a Student of the Month themselves.

While there are so many students who deserve our congratulation at Riley, here are the few that were identified as outstanding scholars for the month of November:
